CT/1/4b. Description of Pioneer Estate (Possibly 1888). In the Description, reference is made to 'an irrigation scheme (that) was entered into some five years ago'. Since an irrigation scheme was implemented in 1883, this would suggest that the document was written in 1888. In addition, this description could have originally accompanied a map in the collection, dated 1888, and both the map and description may have made up the 'Managing Partner's Report Upon the Property' mentioned in the following letter, E.M. Young to David Russell, 12 September 1888. Roy Connolly has also put the date of the document at 1888, however he has suggested that the writer was probably John not George Russell Drysdale, the latter being the managing partner at the time. (R. Connolly, John Drysdale and the Burdekin, p. 74).
